

BERNARD JONES IS GOING PLACES

By Teko Bernard

What's the Story About?

BERNARD JONES IS GOING PLACES, is a fun fast-paced middle-grade chapter book that follows the adventure of a brave yet sheltered small-town boy who dreams of traveling the world like his grandfather, a famous globetrotting photographer, and relic-hunter. That dream suddenly becomes a reality when he accidentally receives a magical ancient relic from his grandfather, for his twelfth birthday. Once the prized possession of 14th-century Mali king, Mansa Musa, the relic has the power to teleport Bernard to any place in the world. Bernard has a blast using the relic to visit cool places but is ultimately transported into a dangerous mission to save his grandfather from a trio of ruthless thieves called the Mansa Musa Gang, who are after the magic relic. Bernard must be brave, responsible, and creative to save his grandfather, keep the ancient relic safe, and get back home before his “extra protective” parents find out.

Kids will relate to Bernard's natural curiosity, imagination, and his longing for independence and freedom to explore and be adventurous.

Pages: 108 pages

Age Range: 8-12

Price: $9.99 (Paperback); $2.99 (eBook)

Publisher: Elmdale Park Books

ISBN-13: 978-0986059339

Website: www.bernardjonesbook.com

A fun middle-grade chapter book, full of mystery, magic, and adventure! ★★★★★

About the Author, Teko Bernard

Teko Bernard is an imaginative storyteller and seasoned designer, who writes middle-grade action-adventure chapter books for boys and girls that explore themes of courage, family, imagination, and responsibility. It was Teko's lifelong interest in geography, history, and ancient legends which ultimately inspired him to write, BERNARD JONES IS GOING PLACES.

To learn more visit: www.tekobernard.com

